How Choice Income works

Your Choice Income account will give you a regular income and you can set it up to suit your needs.

But your money isn't locked away. You can withdraw extra money, such as to pay for bills, holidays or other big ticket items. If you've turned 60 and permanently retired or stopped working for an employer, or turned 65, you can open a Choice Income account to access some of your super when you need it and leave the rest invested. To do this you need to transfer some or all of your super into a new Choice Income account.

Here's how it works

Transfer all or some funds from your super account to open your Choice Income account. Once opened, you can't add more money by law.

2

Draw regular payments or lump sums from your Choice Income account. Payments are tax free (from age 60).

3

You can change your payment and investment options anytime, while your Choice Income balance remains invested and any investment returns are tax free.

Who's eligible for a Choice Income account

To open a Choice Income account you'll need to roll over at least $50,000 from your super account, which you already have with AustralianSuper or another super fund. You'll also need to have met a condition of release. See the When you can start section on page 6.

Only money in super can be used to start a Choice Income account, so any other money you would like to have in your Choice Income account needs to be added to your super first. For more information about eligibility to open a super account, or to add to super, please download the fact sheet on Add to your super and retire with more at australiansuper.com/ContributionLimits

When you can start

You can open a Choice Income account when:

- you've turned 60 and permanently retired or stopped working for an employer, or
- you've turned 65 (even if you're still working).

You may be able to open an account if you're over 18 and can access an 'unrestricted non-preserved' component of your super. You may also be able to access your super because you're totally and permanently disabled. Call 1300 300 273 or visit australiansuper.com/AccessSuper for more information about these situations.

To open a Choice Income account you need to be an Australian citizen/permanent resident, a New Zealand citizen or hold an eligible retirement visa.

How much you need to open a Choice Income account

You need to have a minimum balance of $50,000.

Combine your super before you open your account

Once you've opened a Choice Income account, by law, you can't add more money to it.

If you have more than one super fund you're planning to transfer from to start your Choice Income account, it may be a good idea to combine all your super accounts into an AustralianSuper one before you apply for Choice Income, so you have all your money in one place.

If you choose not to combine your funds into a single super account first, your funds will only be invested once all of your money is received by us. In other words, your Choice Income account can only start once your last rollover is received. There will be no investment returns during the time between the first and last rollover arriving. If you consolidate your funds into a super account first, each will be invested from the date they are received.

If you wish to claim a tax deduction for personal super contributions you must lodge a notice of intent to claim a tax deduction, and receive confirmation that it has been processed, before you combine your super. Please refer to page 38 for more information.

Before making a decision to combine your super accounts, consider any fees or charges that may apply, and the effect a transfer may have on benefits, such as insurance cover with your super fund. You can also search for any lost super you may have through your account online at australiansuper.com/login

How much you can transfer into a Choice Income account

Transfer balance cap

The government has a lifetime limit on the amount of super you can transfer into any tax-free retirement account(s). It is called the 'transfer balance cap'. The cap is:

- the total amount of funds transferred from any super account(s) (including any defined benefit schemes) to any retirement account(s) (including if you're eligible for an AustralianSuper Balance Booster), and
- managed by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

From 1 July 2025, the general transfer balance cap is $2 million. Depending on your circumstances and when your first retirement income account commenced, you may have a personal transfer balance cap of between $1.6 million and $2 million.

You can view your personal transfer balance cap at any time, by logging into your myGov account and going to the ATO section at my.gov.au

Exceeding your personal cap

If you exceed your personal cap, you'll need to reduce the amount of funds in your retirement account(s) by withdrawing the excess amount or transferring to a super account.

Also, you'll receive a notice from the ATO, and we'll contact you about your options. If you don't take any action, the excess amount will automatically transfer to your existing AustralianSuper super account, or we'll create a new one for you.

Your excess amount, along with any earnings returned to your account, may be subject to tax penalties.

Keeping your insurance

If you want to keep your insurance cover, you'll need to maintain your super account with enough money in it to pay for the cost of insurance. To find out more about super accounts, please read the relevant super PDS at australiansuper.com/pds

There's a range of reasons that your insurance cover could stop. For a list of events that may make cover stop, read the When cover stops section in the Insurance in your super guide for your division at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide

Balance Booster

What's Balance Booster

When you move your AustralianSuper super account or TTR Income account to a Choice Income account, you could be eligible to receive an additional credit to your account balance (a Balance Booster).

How does it work

Balance Booster is actually a tax saving. If you meet the eligibility requirements and a tax saving is available to AustralianSuper, we'll pass this tax saving on to you.

When you have a super account or TTR Income account, AustralianSuper sets money aside to pay for future capital gains tax when investment assets are sold.

When you move from a super or TTR Income account to a Choice Income account, your balance is transferred to a tax-free environment and you could be eligible to receive an additional credit to your account balance (a Balance Booster) from the money that was set aside.

The Balance Booster will be different for each investment option and will reduce to zero for an investment option that is in a loss position. The accrued amount may also reduce to zero after switches between options.

If you're invested in more than one investment option and only one is in a loss position, you could still be eligible for the other investment options that are in a gain position.

Who's eligible for the Balance Booster

You may be eligible for a Balance Booster payment if a tax saving is available to AustralianSuper and:

- you move your existing AustralianSuper super account or TTR Income account to a Choice Income account, and
- you've been a super or TTR Income member for a full calendar month or more, and

- you're invested in one of these investment options:

International Shares

You don't need to apply for Balance Booster – it's automatically assessed when you move to a Choice Income account. If eligible, payments are credited the day your Choice Income account is opened.

Which investment options aren't eligible for Balance Booster

The Balance Booster doesn't apply for:

- Cash
- Diversified Fixed Interest
- Member Direct – which is eligible for Seamless Transfer (see page 26 for more details).

Can Balance Booster reduce to zero?

Yes, depending on market performance (eg during a market downturn), it could reduce to zero for an investment option that is in a loss position. And, depending on market movements, AustralianSuper may choose to modify the Balance Booster amount to zero. However, the Balance Booster will never be negative.

For updates visit

australiansuper.com/BalanceBooster

How the Balance Booster is calculated

The amount of the Balance Booster payment will vary based on your investment circumstances, and in some circumstances could be zero¹. The Balance Booster is calculated based on several factors, including:

- AustralianSuper's tax position over time
- your balance history over time
- your chosen investment option(s), their performance and tax position, and
- how long you've been invested in the investment option(s), and timing of any switches between options.

Boosting members' balances

During the 2023/24 financial year, we paid almost $32 million to nearly 12,300 members who opened a Choice Income account. The average Balance Booster paid to these members was just under $2,600.²

¹ In some situations, although the eligibility criteria may be satisfied, the Balance Booster will reduce to zero depending on market performance, but it will never be negative.

² Based on the Balance Booster's paid-up rate to 30 June 2024. The value of the Balance Booster will vary based on your investment circumstances. Depending on market performance, the Balance Booster may reduce to zero, but it will never be negative.

What can affect the value of my Balance Booster payment

How much Balance Booster payment you may receive depends in part on how long you have invested in an option in your super or TTR Income account. This investment time period may impact the capital gains made and also the money set aside for applicable capital gains tax.

Staying in your chosen investment option for longer could mean your Balance Booster has a better opportunity to accrue. Some investment options may offer a greater chance to accrue a Balance Booster than others, so speak with your financial adviser to weigh up all the factors.

You or your financial adviser may decide that you should invest in a different option.

When you change investment options prior to moving to Choice Income, your accrued Balance Booster amount may be reduced to zero. This is because some of the money that was set aside is now used to pay the applicable capital gains tax for the assets sold during the switch.

In some cases it might be in your best interests to switch before moving to Choice Income, despite a potential reduction in your Balance Booster payment.

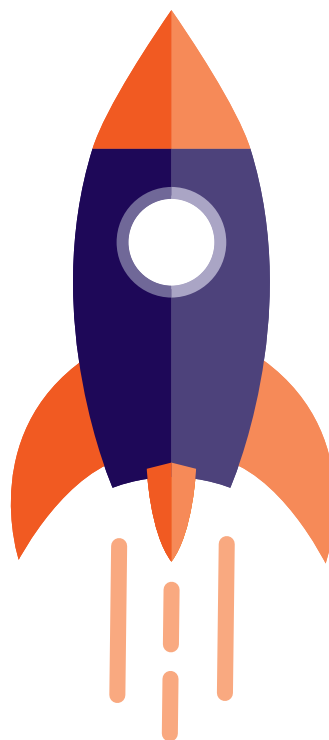

Will my Balance Booster be counted toward my minimum payment calculation

If you receive a Balance Booster payment, it will be included in your minimum payment calculation for the financial year in which you receive it. Then each year after that, your balance at 1 July will be used to calculate this.

Will my Balance Booster be counted towards the transfer balance cap

If you receive a Balance Booster payment it will count toward your transfer balance cap (see page 7). You'll need to make sure the amount you transfer to your Choice Income account, plus your Balance Booster and any other money you hold in other account-based pensions doesn't exceed the cap.

If your Balance Booster is higher than you expect and you exceed your transfer balance cap, you can fix your account by withdrawing the excess amount as a lump sum or rolling it over to your super account. See page 7 for details.

Setting up with Smart Default

Smart Default is an easy way to set up your account. Leave the decisions to us now, but change them later if you need to.

Smart Default can turn your super into an income that may last up to 20 years or more. Your payments and investment options are modelled and managed by a trusted team of investment experts.

Setting up with Smart Default means your payment and investment options are pre-selected:

- you're invested in 12% Cash and 88% Balanced
- you get paid every two weeks
- you initially receive at least 6% of your balance each year; and as you get older this amount will change (see table at right).

How your account balance will be invested

Smart Default uses a 12% Cash and 88% Balanced initial portfolio investment mix.

- The Cash component is designed to help you settle into retirement and cover your income needs and any unexpected expenses for the first two years.
- The Balanced option invests in a wide range of assets, which could help your money last right through your retirement.

Your income will be drawn from your Cash option first, until the balance in Cash reaches $0. Your income is then taken from your Balanced option.

How much income you receive

With Smart Default, you'll initially receive 6% of your balance each year as income. As you get older, this amount will increase to meet the minimum payment limits set by the government.

Smart Default option - percentage of your balance you'll receive each year

Your age on 1 July	Smart Default drawdown rates
Under 80	6.0%
80 to 84	7.0%
85 to 89	9.0%
90 to 94	11.0%
95 and over	14.0%

How often you get paid

You'll receive your payments every two weeks.

Change your mind any time

After you've set up your account, you can make changes whenever you like by logging into your account online, via the mobile app or by submitting a form.

Choosing your own options

Prefer to take control? You can set up your account your way by choosing your own investment and payment options.

Before you make your investment and payment choices

Your payment and investment choices will affect how long your retirement savings last.

When setting up your account consider:

- how much money you'll need each year
- if you'll receive money from a source other than your Choice Income account (like the Government Age Pension)
- how long you think you'll need your retirement savings to last. With current life expectancies, and depending on your age when you retire, your retirement income may need to last you 20 years or longer.

Your payment choices

Setting up your payments is more than just choosing how much you'll receive.

You'll need to choose how often you receive income payments and how much those payments will be. You can set the payments as a fixed amount, or the minimum percentage of your account balance.

The choices you make will have a big impact on how long your savings will last, so it's important to think about your long-term needs. Remember, you can always make extra withdrawals if you need a bit more money to help pay for something out of the ordinary.

Some conditions apply:

- You must be paid at least once a year, or you can choose to be paid every two weeks, once a month, once every three months or twice a year.
- You must be paid a minimum percentage of your account balance each year (see page 39).

Your investment options

Listed below are the investment options you can choose from. You can choose one or more investment options. If you don't make an investment choice when you join, your super will go into our Balanced investment option. You can also make or change your investment option choices after you become a member.

PreMixed options

Hands-on level: Low

PreMixed options are diversified options that are made up of multiple asset classes and have different investment objectives, with varying levels of risk, investment timeframes and expected returns.

Your PreMixed investment option choices are:

- High Growth
- Balanced
- Socially Aware
- Indexed Diversified
- Conservative Balanced
- Stable.

DIY Mix options

Hands-on level: Medium

DIY Mix options are primarily made up of exposure to a single asset class (plus a small portion of cash) and have different investment objectives, with varying levels of risk, investment timeframes and expected returns. You choose how much you want to invest in each in a mix that can also include one or more PreMixed options.

Your DIY Mix investment option choices are:

- Australian Shares
- International Shares
- Diversified Fixed Interest
- Cash.

Member Direct option

Hands-on level: High

The Member Direct investment option gives you more choice and control over your investments¹.

You can choose to invest in a range of investments, including:

- Shares in the S&P/ASX 300 Index
- Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs)
- Listed Investment Companies (LICs)
- Term deposits
- Cash.

For detailed information about your investment options, see pages 20 – 26.
For a detailed explanation of your payment options, see page 39.

¹ Some restrictions apply to Member Direct – read the Member Direct investment option guide at australiansuper.com/MemberDirect

2. Getting down to the details

Investment risks

Understanding your investment risks

All investments have risks, which can affect your retirement income in different ways. Volatility of the investment market isn't the only risk that applies to your retirement income.

Type of risk	About the risk
Adequacy	The risk that your super won't provide enough retirement income for as long as you'll need it.
Agency	The risk that the third parties who manage investments and the administration for AustralianSuper do not perform as expected.
Credit	This is the risk that an issuer of a security (like a bond) doesn't pay back the money borrowed when it's due.
Currency	Movements in exchange rates can impact the value of your investments. For example, a higher Australian dollar can reduce returns on international investments. A lower Australian dollar can improve returns on international investments.
Drawdown (retirement income payment amount)	When your retirement income payments are much higher than your investment returns and you start to draw large amounts of your savings to provide your income payments, this could have a significant impact on how long your retirement savings last.
Inflation	Inflation risk is when your investment returns don't grow above inflation to meet your long-term income requirements. Types of inflation include price inflation, which is a measure of the changes in the prices of goods and services and wage inflation, which is a measure of changes in the amount people earn.
Interest rate	Interest rate movements can impact your investment returns. Interest rate risk is the potential for losses in response to a change in interest rates. There is an inverse relationship between fixed interest security prices and interest rates (yields).
Liquidity	The risk that your investment can't be sold at the right time or when you need your money.
Longevity	The risk that you'll outlive your retirement savings.
Market	The risk of loss due to movements in the financial markets.
Market timing	The risk that you buy or sell your investments at the wrong time. For example, if prices are low when you sell you may lose money.
Policy	The risk that changes to super legislation, retirement income account rules or industry regulations will affect your investment.
Sequencing	Sequencing risk relates to the order and timing of your investment returns. Experiencing negative returns when you're early in retirement can significantly impact how long your retirement savings last. You may not have as much time to recover from market downturns and you won't be getting ongoing super contributions to help offset this risk.
Volatility	A measure of the rise and fall of an investment. An investment that has larger price fluctuations has higher volatility and is considered more risky. Volatility can be measured by standard deviation, which is the variation of returns around the average or expected return.

Risk levels of investment options

When choosing your investment options, the risks you need to consider will be different depending on how long you plan to invest.

- Short-term risk (less than 5 years) is the risk that your retirement savings will be reduced by adverse market movements, measured using the Standard Risk Measure.
- Medium-term risk (5 to less than 20 years) balances two risks. The first is that your retirement savings will be reduced by adverse market movements and the second is that your savings will not keep up with wage inflation.
- Long-term risk (20 years or more) is the risk that your retirement savings will not produce returns in excess of wage inflation.

We compare the performance of our investment options against industry and market benchmarks so you can track how your Choice Income account is performing. View our latest performance figures at australiansuper.com/RetirementPerformance

Standard Risk Measure (Short-term)

Risk level	Estimated number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period
Very low	Less than 0.5
Low	0.5 to less than 1
Low to medium	1 to less than 2
Medium	2 to less than 3
Medium to high	3 to less than 4
High	4 to less than 6
Very high	6 or greater

The Standard Risk Measure is based on industry guidance to allow you to compare investment options that are expected to deliver a similar number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period.

The Standard Risk Measure is not a complete assessment of all forms of investment risk, for instance it does not detail what the size of a negative return could be or the potential for a positive return to be less than a member may require to meet their objectives. Further, it does not take into account the impact of administration fees on the likelihood of a negative return.

Long-term risk measure

Risk level	Probability of underperforming wage inflation
Low	Less than 10%
Low to medium	10% to less than 20%
Medium	20% to less than 30%
Medium to high	30% to less than 40%
High	40% to less than 60%
Very high	60% or greater

The long-term risk level is determined by considering the likelihood of investments in each option to produce returns in excess of wage inflation.

It does not take into account the impact of administration fees when considering future investment returns.

You should still ensure that you are comfortable with the risks and potential losses associated with your chosen investment option/s.

Inflation

Inflation reduces the value of money over time. This means the money you've saved now will be worth less in the future.

Inflation is something you need to think about when choosing how much you'll be paid and your investment options. Inflation can increase your daily living costs, so your income payments may need to increase from year to year.

Consumer Price Index

Consumer Price Index (CPI) is an index used to measure the price of selected goods and services regularly purchased by ordinary Australian households. This index is used to measure inflation.

Risks and your investment timeframe

When selecting your investments, it's important to consider options that address both short and long-term income needs. This may mean choosing more than one investment option.

A shorter investment timeframe of up to five years means you should focus on protecting your savings as you'll access them sooner. An investment option with a lower chance of negative returns may be more appropriate. Over the short term, a big risk is that market ups and downs may reduce your account balance, which will reduce the length of time you can receive an income.

A longer investment timeframe means you'll have more time to grow your retirement savings.

Investing your retirement savings in a mix of options may be a solution. Money you need to access within one to five years could be invested into lower risk options. Investing the rest of your savings into an option or options that will grow your savings above inflation so you can draw an income for longer is also very important.

How your income affects your investment timeframe

How much you withdraw as a regular income from your account can also impact your investment timeframe, which you'll need to consider when making an investment choice. Withdrawing a higher income will reduce your savings more quickly and therefore reduce your investment timeframe, while taking a lower amount will increase it.

Risk levels are based on estimating the probability of negative returns in the short term, or underperforming wage inflation in the long term.

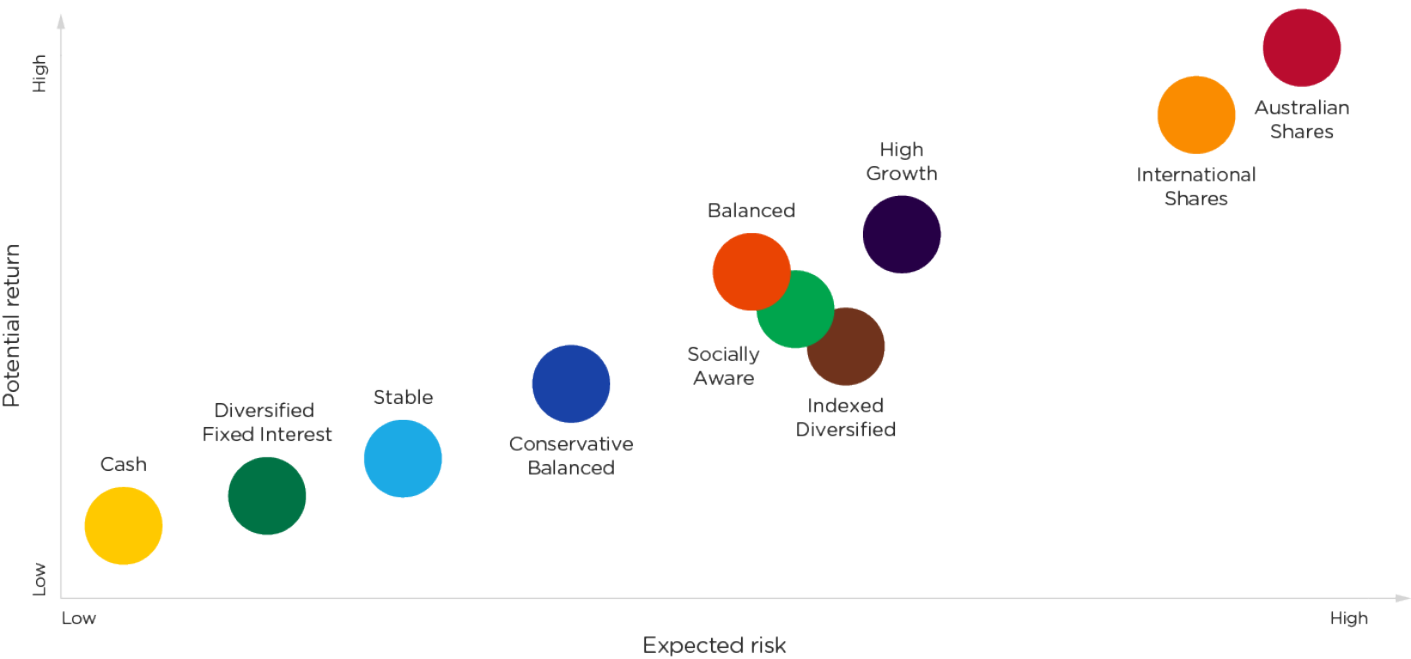

Investment option risk and return characteristics

We invest in assets that have the potential to meet each option’s investment return objectives. This often means investing in assets that have differing levels of risk. To compensate for the risk taken, riskier assets have a higher investment return potential over the long term.

The chart below shows the relative expected risk and potential return profile of each investment option.

Investment option expected risk and potential return comparison

The above chart is illustrative only and is based on long-term risk and return assumptions for each investment option. It is not a forecast or guarantee of future investment returns of the investment options shown. Similarly, it should not be relied upon as an accurate indication of the future level of risk associated with any one investment option. Each investment option is subject to different types of investment risk and can be impacted by those particular risks to varying degrees.

Asset classes

Asset classes are the building blocks of your investment options. Some investment options invest in a single asset class, while others include a mix of asset classes, depending on the investment objective of the option.

Australian shares

Part equity ownership of a company listed on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) which provides returns from price changes and dividends.

International shares

Part equity ownership of a company listed on an overseas securities exchange which provides returns from price changes and dividends.

Private equity

Equity ownership of companies that aren't listed on a securities exchange. These can include Australian and international companies across a wide range of industries.

Infrastructure

Assets that provide essential public facilities and services in a number of sectors including transport, energy generation and transition, utilities and telecommunications in Australia and overseas.

Property

Holdings in residential, retail, industrial or commercial real estate such as land and buildings. Can invest in property operating platforms which are businesses that own and operate property assets.

Credit

Loans, bonds, royalties, leases or other debt securities, which have a higher yield to compensate for being unrated or having a lower credit quality compared to investment-grade corporate and government bonds. Examples of Credit investments include direct loans to fund commercial real estate construction, sub-investment grade bonds issued by companies, and subordinated loans made to brownfield infrastructure assets.

Fixed interest

Loans, bonds and securitised debt issued by governments and companies that pay regular interest income over a set term. The principal amount is repaid to the lender when the security matures. These securities in the fixed income portfolio are generally investment-grade quality, although we may invest a portion of the portfolio in higher yielding debt.

Cash

Short-term deposits and cash held on hand. Securities such as bank bills and bonds that are issued by governments and companies.

Other assets

Investments that represent unique opportunities or strategies. Examples include commodities, hedge funds and other alternative investment strategies.

Growth and defensive assets

Growth assets provide a higher level of potential return, while exhibiting higher risk (variability of returns) including downturns during adverse markets. Examples of growth assets include Australian shares, international shares and private equity.

Defensive assets have lower potential returns and lower risk (variability of returns). Examples of defensive assets include fixed interest and cash.

Some assets have both growth and defensive characteristics with the potential for capital growth, higher income and moderate capital preservation. These assets are categorised as 50% growth and 50% defensive. Examples include property, infrastructure and credit.

Combining growth and defensive assets balances growth opportunities with the downside risks of market volatility to help grow your super over time.

Understanding your investment options

To help you understand what makes up each investment option, we've put together the example below.

A short summary about what the option is invested in and what it was designed to achieve.

Balanced

Invests in a wide range of assets with a focus on growth assets. Designed to have medium to long-term growth with possible short-term fluctuations. This is our default option if you don't make an investment choice when you join.

Investment objective

- To beat CPI by more than 4% p.a. over the medium to longer term, and
- To beat the median balanced fund¹ over the medium to longer term.

Minimum investment timeframe

At least 10 years.

Risk level for the time invested

Short-term	Medium-term	Long-term
High	Medium	Low

The investment return target(s) for the option, which for PreMixed options includes out-performance of the Consumer Price Index (CPI), which is the official measure of inflation.

The risk profile of each option will vary depending on the time invested in the option.

If you can't keep your super invested for at least this long, this option probably isn't right for you.

How often this option is likely to have an annual negative return in any 20-year period.

Estimated number of negative annual returns over any 20-year period

About 5 in every 20 years.

The chart shows the combination of asset classes that typically make up each option.

The percentages for each asset class are the strategic asset allocation for the option with the permitted asset allocation ranges shown in brackets. The total growth and defensive asset percentages are also shown based on the strategic asset allocation.

- Australian shares 23.85% (10-45%)
- International shares 30.65% (10-45%)
- Private equity 4.75% (0-15%)

- Defensive assets 30.1%

Short-term

If you plan to invest for under 5 years

Investments may be reduced by market volatility and not have time to recover.

Medium-term

If you plan to invest for 5-20 years

Investments may be reduced by market volatility and/or your savings might not keep up with wage inflation.

Long-term

If you plan to invest for over 20 years

Your savings may not keep up with wage inflation.

We set a mix of asset classes designed to meet each option's investment objectives known as the strategic asset allocation which is the starting point for our active investment process and broadly represents the risk and return profile of the option over the stated term. We aim to generate outperformance by moving toward or away from the strategic asset allocation depending on our outlook for the economy and investment markets. We review the strategic asset allocation percentages and permitted ranges annually.

PreMixed investment options

With our PreMixed investment options, we've done the diversification for you.

High Growth

Invests in a wide range of assets with a high focus on growth assets. Designed to have strong long-term growth with possible short-term fluctuations.

Investment objective

- To beat CPI by more than 4.5% p.a. over the medium to longer term, and
- To beat the median growth fund¹ over the medium to longer term.

Minimum investment timeframe

Investment menu

We may change or add to the selection of investments available through the Member Direct investment option at any time without notice to you.

For the current Member Direct - Investment menu, visit australiansuper.com/MemberDirect

Important information

While managing your own investments increases your control and flexibility, the Member Direct investment option may not suit everyone.

As a self-directed investor, you will need to be aware of the risks and dangers involved, such as:

- short-term share price volatility
- the consequences of transacting too often
- too little diversification, and
- investing in response to your emotions.

If you're considering investing in Member Direct and would like further advice visit australiansuper.com/advice for information on your advice options.

Investing through Member Direct

When you invest as an AustralianSuper member through the Member Direct investment option there are important differences compared with directly investing in your own name outside of super - refer to the Member Direct investment option guide at australiansuper.com/MemberDirect

Who can invest?

To be eligible to invest in the Member Direct investment option you must be an AustralianSuper member of at least 18 years of age and have a balance of at least $50,000 in your Choice Income account.

Minimum ongoing balance requirements

- Once you open a Member Direct account, you must keep at least $5,000 or 13 months of income payments, whichever is greater, invested in AustralianSuper's other investment options at all times.
- If your account balance falls below $10,000 you will need to close your Member Direct account and transfer any funds to your other AustralianSuper investment options.
- You must also maintain at least $400 in your Member Direct Cash account at all times.

Income payment reserve

Your income payments are deducted from AustralianSuper's other investment options. You must keep enough money in your other investment options to cover 13 months of income payments - this is called the Income payment reserve. We will notify you by email if your balance falls below this level.

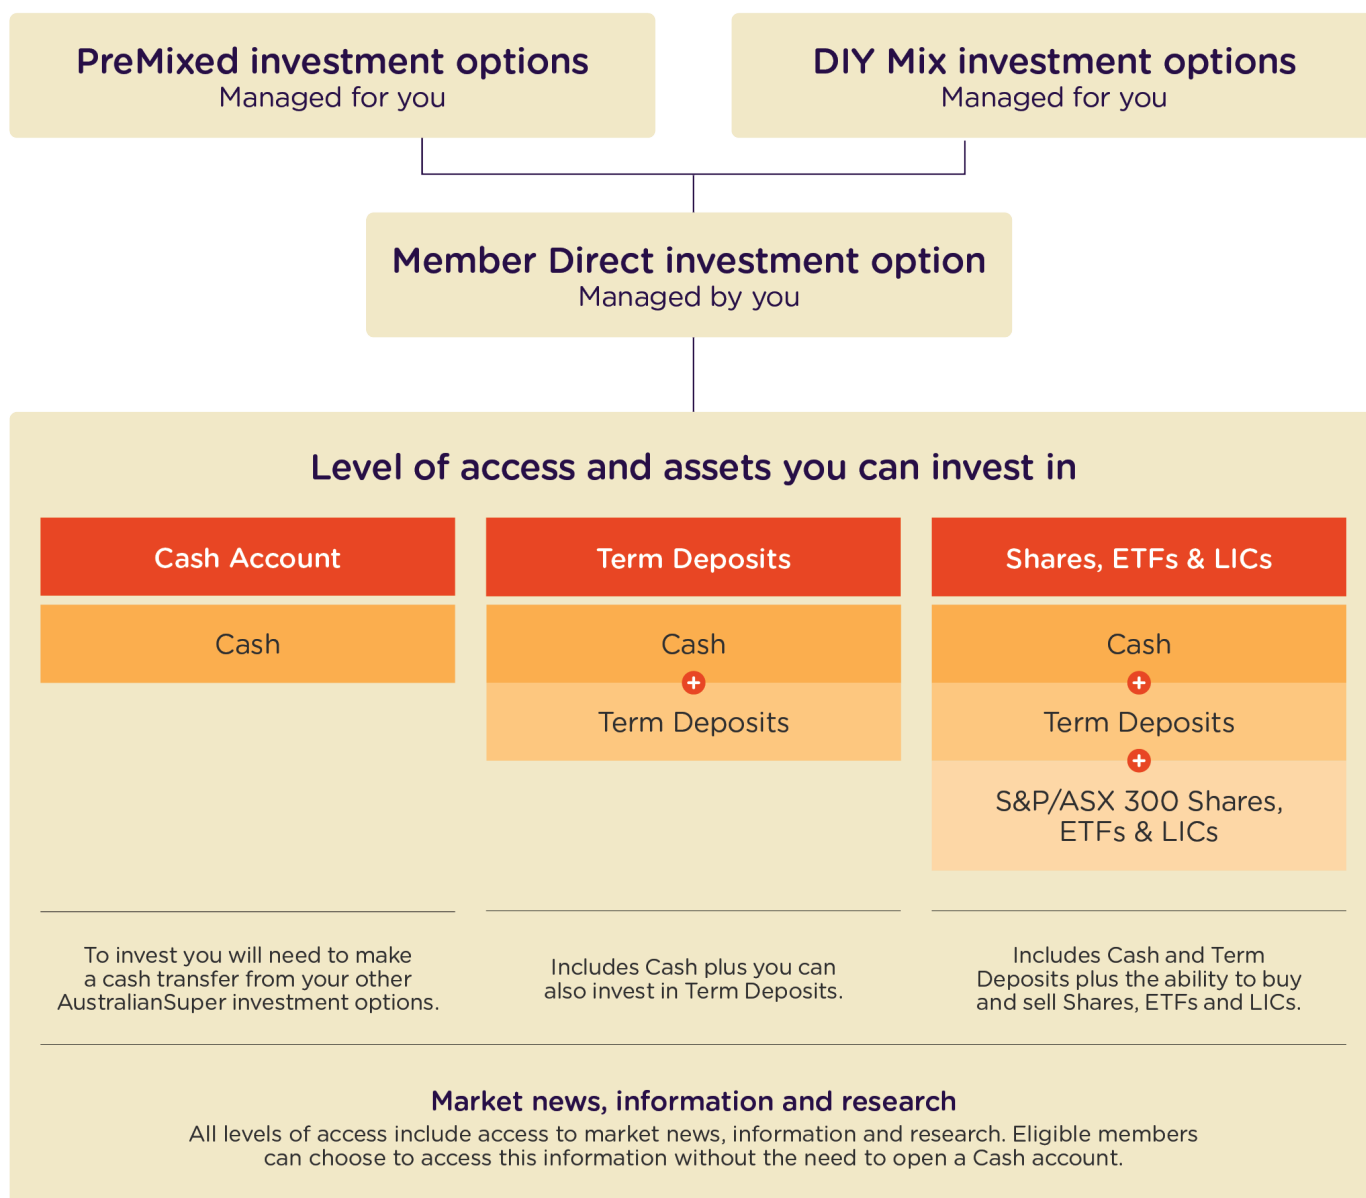

If this happens, you will need to transfer money from your Member Direct Cash account to your other investments. This might mean you have to sell some of your Member Direct investments. You should consider this before committing to an investment like a term deposit.

For a full explanation of the Member Direct investment option, read the Member Direct investment option guide at australiansuper.com/MemberDirectGuide

Fees and costs

Additional fees and costs apply when you invest in the Member Direct investment option. These vary depending on the level of access you select - refer to page 47 for details.

How we aim to generate strong long-term returns

We invest with one goal in mind: to help members achieve their best financial position in retirement.

Our long-term vision

We work hard to generate strong, long-term investment returns, so you can enjoy a better future. As long-term investors, we focus on investing in a diversified mix of assets that may grow your savings over time.

Our core investment beliefs underpin this vision:

- 1. we are run only to benefit members
- 2. we use our scale to reduce costs and better structure investments
- 3. we actively manage investments where it can add value
- 4. we're aware of our responsibility to the broader community, consistent with our obligations to maximise benefits to members.

Investment approach

We believe an active management approach is the best way to invest. That's why we select specific sectors, assets and stocks that we believe will outperform the broader market. This is supported by quality research, experienced investment specialists and a disciplined investment process.

We also use index managers in some options to lower overall portfolio costs or where active management opportunities are smaller.

We manage a range of asset classes internally and our goal is to do more of this over time. This strategy aims to deliver significant cost savings, which go back to you in the form of better net returns.

Our investment people

We have a range of people and teams involved at different stages of the process. Our investment governance framework ensures the appropriate checks are in place when making and implementing investment decisions, and there are clear lines of responsibility and accountability.

The Investment Committee is accountable to the Board for our investment policy and strategy. They oversee investment decisions and review asset allocation recommendations put forward by the internal team.

The internal team advises the Investment Committee on all investment matters. The team is responsible for research and portfolio management, monitoring investment managers, managing and implementing our asset allocation process and working with our external asset consultants.

A mix of internal and external investment managers select and manage the investments within each asset class – supported by a range of professional operational staff.

Currency management

Returns for international assets can be affected by the ups-and-downs of the exchange rate as well as changes in investment values. To help protect the PreMixed options that include international assets from adverse currency movements, we set a strategic asset allocation foreign currency exposure for the options. An investment option's foreign currency exposure is the percentage of the option that is invested in unhedged international assets.

Investment options	Strategic asset allocation foreign currency exposure	Range
High Growth	27.0%	0-30%
Balanced	19.5%	0-30%
Socially Aware	19.5%	0-30%
Indexed Diversified	29.0%	0-40%
Conservative Balanced	15.0%	0-25%
Stable	9.0%	0-20%

Related party investments

We only make contracts and investment transactions with related parties when we believe you'll get the same or more benefits from those investments.

Related parties might be organisations that conduct business with us, where we or one of our representatives might be a shareholder, part-owner or director of that organisation or have significant influence on it. Our Environmental, Social and Governance approach

We believe companies with good Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) management provide better long-term returns.

AustralianSuper considers a range of ESG issues but prioritises those which we believe are likely to have the greatest financial impact on members' investment returns. These issues can include climate change, workforce, board effectiveness and remuneration. Our approach is more developed on some issues than others.

Guiding principles on labour standards and human rights including those from the International Labour Organization and the United Nations inform our work.

Find out about AustralianSuper's commitment to achieve net zero carbon emissions by 2050 in the investment portfolio at

ESG and Stewardship program

The application of our ESG and Stewardship program varies by asset class and the characteristics of our investment, including whether we're investing directly or through external managers, or whether our investment is actively or passively held.

Our ESG and Stewardship program has three pillars:

Integration

ESG integration refers to the way we integrate ESG considerations when deciding which assets and companies to invest in and assessing their investment value.

Stewardship

We meet with the chairs and board members of ASX-listed companies (individually or via collaborative networks with other investors) on ESG issues that we believe can impact long-term value. Engagement provides us with an opportunity to encourage positive management of ESG issues that we believe can impact members' investment returns. AustralianSuper votes on company and shareholder resolutions for Australian and international listed companies. We publish our voting records and approach on our website.

Choice

We understand that members have diverse values, preferences and attitudes when it comes to investing. To help understand what's important to members we undertake member surveys. We consider this research in the investment options we offer. We have a range of investment options for members to choose from, including the Socially Aware investment option.

Collaboration

Working with other investors and industry groups gives us insights and broader influence on ESG issues.

AustralianSuper collaborates on a number of investor initiatives, including Climate Action 100+, United Nations' Principles for Responsible Investment (UNPRI), the Investor Group on Climate Change (IGCC), Investors Against Slavery and Trafficking (IAST) and the Australian Council of Superannuation Investors (ACSI).

You can read more about our ESG and Stewardship Program at

Tobacco exclusion

AustralianSuper seeks to exclude companies involved in the production of tobacco products, including companies that grow or process raw tobacco leaves, from its investment options, as described below.

Tobacco products include traditional and alternative tobacco smoking products, such as e-cigarettes.

This exclusion doesn't apply to:

- companies that:
 - own less than 50% of a company involved in the production of tobacco products,
 - license brand names to tobacco products,
 - buy, sell or distribute tobacco products, and
 - produce and supply essential products for the production of tobacco products,
- the use of derivatives that have an indirect exposure to tobacco, or
- investments in the Member Direct investment option.

We rely on data from ESG research providers when implementing the tobacco exclusion which may be affected by the accessibility and accuracy of the data, or an error in source data used by third party providers. This may result in inadvertent holdings, typically over the short term.

Exclusion lists from third party data providers are generally provided monthly and we endeavour to divest from current holdings for any new exclusions as soon as practical, usually within 30 days of receiving updated data, and in any event by the end of the following month after receiving updated data.

Socially Aware investment option

AustralianSuper's ESG and Stewardship program and tobacco exclusion applies to the Socially Aware option. In addition, the Socially Aware option applies investment exclusions (or 'screens') to listed shares in the Australian shares and international shares asset classes, and to corporate securities (such as bonds, loans and other debt instruments) in the fixed interest asset class, which covers around 60% of the option's total assets¹.

The screens do not apply to all asset classes within the Socially Aware option, or to all investments within each asset class to which the screens do apply as detailed under the Exceptions section on page 32.

Screens

The following screens seek to exclude certain investments in certain asset classes that meet the exclusion criteria ('excluded companies'), as described below:

Exclusion	Description of exclusion criteria	Investments and asset classes to which the screens apply
Thermal coal, oil and gas	Companies that provide evidence of owning thermal coal, oil or gas reserves ² .	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Listed shares in Australian shares and international shares asset classes, and Corporate securities (such as bonds, loans and other debt instruments) in the fixed interest asset class.

¹The percentage of the option covered by the screens is based on the strategic asset allocation to Australian shares, international shares and fixed interest (adjusted for the percentage invested in corporate securities). During the year we can move toward or away from this percentage based on our outlook for the economy and investment markets. As at 31 May 2025, approximately 40% of the fixed interest asset class was invested in corporate securities and this exposure can vary over time.

² Reserves, in this context, are thermal coal, oil, gas or uranium that can be extracted from known fields at an economical cost.

³Financial institutions and fund providers that own less than 50% of companies that produce cluster munitions and land mines are not excluded by the screens.

Exceptions

The Socially Aware option can still invest in companies not otherwise excluded by the screens that:

- own reserves of metallurgical coal which is generally used in the production of steel,
- lend to, or conduct other financial transactions with excluded companies,
- buy, sell or process products from the excluded companies, for example petrol refiners, distributors and retailers, and/or
- provide products and services to the excluded companies, for example insurance, security, catering and office suppliers.

The screens do not apply to investments in the following asset classes: private equity, infrastructure, property, credit, cash and other assets. This means that investments that would be otherwise excluded in the Australian shares, international shares and fixed interest asset classes may be held in these other asset classes. In addition, the screens do not apply to government issued fixed interest securities (such as bonds, loans and other debt instruments) in the fixed interest asset class. See page 17 for descriptions of each asset class.

In addition, the option may use derivatives which could result in exposure (up to 5% of the option's total assets) to companies that are otherwise excluded by the screens.

ESG research providers rely on company reported information in public documents, investor presentations and websites when determining exclusion lists and we rely upon the accuracy of these exclusion lists when applying the screens.

Implementation of the screens may be affected by the accessibility and accuracy of data, or an error in source data used by third party providers. This may result in inadvertent holdings, typically over the short term.

Ongoing monitoring

Exclusion lists from third party data providers are generally provided monthly and we endeavour to divest from current holdings for any new exclusions as soon as practical, usually within 30 days of receiving updated data, and in any event by the end of the following month after receiving updated data.

You can find out more about the Socially Aware investment option on page 20.

How your account is invested if you die

Your account will be invested in the Cash investment option after AustralianSuper is notified of your death. This investment switch will be made within the following timeframes:

- For PreMixed and DIY Mix investment options, within two business days of AustralianSuper being notified of your death.
- For the Member Direct investment option, generally within 14 business days of AustralianSuper being notified of your death to allow sufficient time to sell down your Member Direct investments. The switch could be further delayed if there are dividends due but not yet paid, pending corporate actions, or restricted or suspended securities on the account.

Notification of your death to AustralianSuper can be made either verbally or in writing.

If your account reverts to a reversionary beneficiary when you die, your account will also be invested in the Cash investment option after notification of your death. This investment change will occur within certain timeframes, outlined above, depending on how your account is invested before you die. Your reversionary beneficiary will be able to select their preferred investment option once their account is set up.

The easiest way to manage your account

Staying on top of your retirement savings and investments is easy with our mobile app. You can check your account balance, transactions, fees and costs, change your investments, download your statements, update your account details and more. Download the app today at australiansuper.com/MobileApp

¹A business day is any day other than a weekend or public holiday (national and the Victorian King's Birthday holiday).

Crediting rates

AustralianSuper calculates the performance of your investments using crediting rates, which are the investment returns less investment fees and costs, transaction costs and taxes. We calculate crediting rates for each investment option, except Member Direct. They may be zero, positive or negative, depending on investment markets. They're determined daily and applied on 30 June, or earlier if you change investment options, close your account, make a withdrawal (excluding income payments) or transfer your account.

Transfers into your Choice Income account receive investment returns from and for the day of receipt. If you have requested multiple transfers in to start your Choice Income account, we'll only invest all of your money together at the one time and there'll be no investment returns until we receive all your transfers in.

The interest earned on the money received while waiting for the other transfers in will be allocated to the general pool of fund assets. In the case we cannot accept or allocate money received, the money will be returned without interest. The interest earned on the unallocated money will also be allocated to the general pool of fund assets.

When transactions occur in your account, investment returns are applied as follows:

- When you change (switch) investment options within your account, the daily crediting rate will be applied to your account for your previous investment choice up to the date of the switch. Your new investment choice will be effective at the start of the next business day¹ after you make your switch (if received before 4pm AEST/AEDT [Melbourne time] on a business day¹). The crediting rates are applied to your account once they are updated in the Administrator's records. It usually takes two to three full business days for investment switches to show in your account online and in the mobile app.
- When a full withdrawal or transfer out of AustralianSuper occurs, your account receives investment returns up to the latest applied crediting rates based on the Administrator's records at the time the transaction is processed. An interim crediting rate of zero (0%) is applied for the days since the last applied crediting rate to the date of the withdrawal or transfer, which is typically two business days¹.
- When you make a full transfer between your super, TTR Income and Choice Income accounts, the source account receives investment returns up to the latest applied crediting rates based on the Administrator's records at the time the transaction is processed. An interim crediting rate of zero (0%) is applied to the source account for the days since the last applied crediting rate to the date of the transfer, which is typically two business days¹. The destination account receives returns from and for the date of the transfer.
- If you make a partial withdrawal (excluding income payments) or transfer out from your account, the amount of returns for that transaction is calculated using the same process as a full withdrawal or full transfer, for the amount that's withdrawn or transferred. The returns on the remainder of your account will be applied to your account at 30 June (or when you make a full withdrawal or change your investment option).

For more information download the How crediting rates and investment returns work fact sheet at australiansuper.com/CreditingRates

¹ A business day is any day other than a weekend or public holiday (national and the Victorian King's Birthday holiday).

Nominating beneficiaries

Your options

You have three options when deciding what happens to your money in the event of your death:

- Reversionary nomination – You nominate a person who will receive your account balance as a regular income.
- Binding nomination – You provide formal written direction to AustralianSuper to tell us who you want your account balance paid to. If valid, your nomination is legally binding.
- Non-binding nomination – You nominate who you'd prefer your account to be paid to. This nomination is not legally binding.

Who can be nominated

You can nominate the following people as beneficiaries:

- your spouse (including de facto and same sex)
- your children (conditions apply for reversionary beneficiary nominations)
- interdependants (someone who lives with you and shares a close personal relationship where one or both of you provide financial and domestic support, and personal care of the other). Find out more about interdependants at australiansuper.com/beneficiary
- other financial dependants¹ (such as someone who relies on you financially immediately before your death)
- your estate or legal personal representative (not available for reversionary nominations).

Your options in more detail

Reversionary nomination

If you nominate a reversionary beneficiary, and the reversionary beneficiary nomination is valid at the time of your death, they will have the following payment options to choose from:

- Option 1: Receive the account balance as regular income payments, until the balance reaches $0.²
- Option 2: Take the whole account balance as a lump sum payment.
- Option 3: Receive a partial lump sum payment and the remaining balance as regular income payments.²

Your reversionary beneficiary will be provided with the relevant forms for each payment option as part of the claim process. If the nomination is deemed invalid, AustralianSuper will need to determine how to pay the benefit based on fund rules and super law.

You can only nominate one of the people listed under the Who can be nominated section as your reversionary beneficiary, except your legal personal representative. If you nominate a child over 18 years old, they must be:

- permanently disabled³, or
- younger than 25 and financially dependent on you immediately before your death.

It's important to consider changing or cancelling your nomination if your circumstances change, so that your benefit will be paid in line with your current wishes.

¹ As defined by Superannuation Law.

² Balances used to start a reversionary pension will count to the reversionary beneficiary's transfer balance cap 12 months after the date of your death.

³ Within the meaning of the Disability Services Act 1986 (Cth).

Binding nomination

If you make a binding nomination, we'll pay your account to the beneficiaries you've nominated, as long as your nomination has been received by AustralianSuper, is valid and in force at the time of your death. The account balance will normally be paid as a one-off payment but may be paid as an income stream to a qualifying dependant.

AustralianSuper offers two types of binding nominations:

- Lapsing binding nomination - expires 3 years from the date you sign the form.
- Non-lapsing binding nomination - does not have an expiration date and will only be changed or cancelled if you complete a new nomination form.

A binding nomination is valid if:

- your nomination has been completed on the approved form, and has been signed and witnessed in the presence of two adults who are not nominated as your beneficiaries
- all the individuals nominated are alive at the time of your death (eg if you nominated three beneficiaries and one was no longer alive at the time of your death, then the nomination would be invalid)
- all the individuals nominated are eligible at the date of your death, and
- your nomination has not expired (if applicable).

A valid nomination comes into effect from the date we receive and accept it and remains in effect for as long as it is valid, hasn't lapsed (where relevant) or been cancelled or changed. If you make a lapsing binding nomination, please note the 3 year term will start from the date you sign the form. The expiry date of this binding nomination type is shown on your annual statement and in your account online, and you'll be sent a reminder prior to the expiry date.

An expired or invalid binding nomination is considered to be non-binding, this means that it guides AustralianSuper rather than instructs the payout of your account. To ensure your nomination remains valid, we recommend you consider reviewing your nomination regularly. To make, amend, or cancel a binding nomination please complete the Binding death benefit nomination form at the back of this PDS or download a copy from australiansuper.com/beneficiary

If you are unsure on what the right nomination is for you, we recommend that you seek legal or financial advice.

Non-binding nomination

When you make a non-binding nomination, you're telling us who you'd prefer your account to be left to when you die, but your nomination isn't legally binding on AustralianSuper. This means that although we'd take your wishes into account, the benefit must be paid in accordance with superannuation law and AustralianSuper's Trust Deed. The account balance will normally be paid as a one-off payment to a dependant/s or your legal personal representative.

You can nominate non-binding beneficiaries when you open your account. You can change your beneficiaries at any time by logging into your account online.

Special conditions for children

Children aged between 18 and 25, who are financially dependent on you, may receive your account as regular income payments until they reach 25 (unless your account runs out earlier). The remaining account balance will be paid out to them when they turn 25. If your child is permanently disabled, they may continue to receive regular payments until the money runs out, regardless of their age.

Tax rates and arrangements

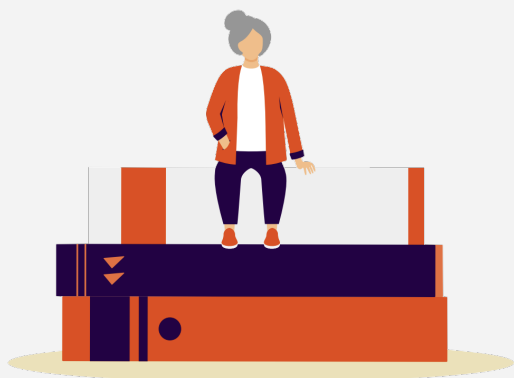

Investment returns in your Choice Income account are tax exempt.

Tax if you're 60 or over

If you're 60 or over, your retirement income payments (and any lump sum withdrawals) are generally tax free and don't need to be declared as assessable income when you lodge a tax return.

Tax if you're under 60

If you're under 60, your income payments and lump sum withdrawals may be taxable and will need to be declared as assessable income when you lodge a tax return.

Important tax information for those under 60

All super balances, including account-based pension accounts, are made of two components - taxable and tax free. Any tax-free component in your super will remain tax free in your Choice Income account. We'll work out the tax-free component of each payment for you.

Your tax-free component

Your tax-free component is the total of any:

- after-tax contributions
- government co-contributions.

Your taxable component

The remaining money in your account is your taxable component and is the total of:

- your before-tax contributions, including employer Superannuation Guarantee (SG) payments and salary sacrifice amounts
- any personal contributions where you've claimed a tax deduction, and
- investment returns.

Tax on the taxable component if you're under 60 in 2025/26

If you're under 60, the taxable component of any retirement income or lump sum withdrawal is reported as assessable income to the ATO and is taxed as required. However, this tax could be reduced under certain circumstances such as disability.

Income payments

Your income payments are taxed at your marginal income tax rate, plus Medicare levy when you've provided your Tax File Number. If you haven't provided your Tax File Number, income payments are taxed at the highest marginal rate plus Medicare levy.

Lump sum withdrawals

Lump sum withdrawals are taxed at 20% plus Medicare levy.

Paying tax

In the same way tax comes out of a working wage, tax is deducted from your payments and any additional withdrawals you make before they're deposited into your bank account.

We'll work out the tax that needs to be deducted and pay it to the ATO. The tax taken from your payments is based on a number of factors, such as the tax-free component of your account, whether you'll claim the tax-free threshold for these payments and if you're eligible for a tax offset.

Important tax information for everyone

Claiming a tax deduction

If you've made personal contributions to super that you intend to claim a tax deduction for, you need to tell your super fund that you plan to claim a tax deduction¹ before you transfer some or all of it to a Choice Income account.

Once you've transferred any amount to your Choice Income account, you can't claim tax deductions for the contributions you've made to super. This includes a super account within AustralianSuper.

To claim a tax deduction for personal super contributions you must lodge a Notice of intent to claim a tax deduction with your super fund. Download the form at australiansuper.com/TaxDeduction or call us on 1300 300 273.

Tax on money used to open your account

Generally, you don't have to pay tax when you transfer your super into your Choice Income account. Money from an untaxed source may be taxed on entry.

Tax on death payments

If you have money left in your Choice Income account when you die, that money will be paid to your beneficiaries as outlined on page 35.

As this table shows, the way those payments are taxed is based on a number of factors, including how the money is paid and who receives it.

Type of beneficiary	Death payment type	Age of deceased	Age of dependant	Tax treatment (excluding Medicare levy)
Dependant ³	Lump sum payment	Any age	Any age	Tax free
	Income payments	Below 60	Below 60	Taxable component taxed at their marginal income tax rate, less possible 15% tax offset ²
		Below 60	60 or older	Tax free ²
		60 or older	Any age	Tax free ²
Non-dependant	Lump sum payment	Any age	Any age	Taxable component taxed at their marginal income tax rate or 15%, whichever is lower ²
	Income payments	Any age	Any age	Not eligible for income payments

For further details refer to our Applying for payment after a member dies fact sheet available under the Insurance tab at australiansuper.com/factsheets

Medicare gives Australian residents access to healthcare and is partly funded by taxpayers who pay a Medicare Levy of 2% of their taxable income. The Medicare Levy and any reductions are calculated from information provided in your tax return.

¹ If aged between 67 and 75, you'll need to satisfy the work test or qualify for the work test exemption to be eligible. If you're 75 or older, you can only claim a tax deduction for contributions if made within 28 days after the end of the month you turned 75.

² If your taxable component contains an untaxed element, additional tax may be applied to that element.

³ The definition of dependant is per the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, for the purpose of paying a death benefit.

Payments

Choose how often you'll be paid

You can receive your income payments:

- every two weeks
- once a month
- once every three months
- twice a year, or
- once a year.

You can check our payment calendar at australiansuper.com/PaymentCalendar

Choose how your payments will be drawn down

You can choose which investments your payments and fees are taken from as follows:

- Highest Balance - Your payments and fees will be deducted from the investment with the highest balance at the time.
- Pro-rata - Your payments and fees will be taken from each investment option in proportion to the balance of each option.
- Payment Order - You can choose which investment option your payments and fees are taken from in numerical order.

You can only choose one of these options and if you don't make a choice your account will default to the Highest Balance option. You can change your drawdown preference at any time.

Choose how much you'll be paid

You can tell us how much income you want to receive and we'll pay it to your bank account.

You can choose:

- the minimum payment (set by the government), or
- a specific amount.

We write to you each year confirming how much income you will receive for the coming year, based on the payment choices you had most recently made. If your chosen amount is less than the minimum payment required by law, we will pay this minimum amount.

Minimum income amount

Every financial year you'll need to withdraw a minimum amount. The amount is set by the government, age-based and increases as you get older.

Your minimum amount is calculated as a percentage of your account balance on 1 July each year. There is no maximum withdrawal limit.

Minimum drawdown amounts each financial year

Your age at 1 July each year	Minimum drawdown rates
Under 65	4.0%
65 to 74	5.0%
75 to 79	6.0%
80 to 84	7.0%
85 to 89	9.0%
90 to 94	11.0%
95 and over	14.0%

Payments in the first financial year

For the first year, the minimum amount is calculated on the date your account is opened, based on how much of the financial year is left when you open your account.

Minimum

If you choose minimum payments, we'll pay you a proportion of the annual minimum amount, based on the number of days left in the financial year.

For example, if you join halfway through the year, you'll receive half the annual minimum over the remainder of the financial year.

If you open your account in June there's no minimum payment for that financial year.

Specific amount

If you choose a specific amount, we'll pay you the 'per payment' amount you've requested at the frequency you've chosen for the rest of the financial year (as long as your payment amount for the year meets the minimum requirements).

You can also ask to have your income payments indexed each year to keep up with inflation as measured by the CPI, or between 1% and 5% per year (see Inflation on page 15).

When you'll be paid

After setting up your account, you will start to receive payments once your application is fully processed. This can take up to four weeks, or longer in some circumstances.

Lump sum withdrawals

On top of your regular income payments, you can make lump sum withdrawals as you need them. Simply log into your online account and complete the Request a partial withdrawal of your Choice Income or TTR Income account form.

There are a few things to note about lump sum withdrawals:

- The minimum amount is $1,000.
- They don't count towards the minimum income amounts that must be withdrawn by law every year.
- If you are under the age of 60, they may be subject to tax (see page 37).
- Unless specified differently on your withdrawal form, lump sum payments will be deducted using your drawdown nomination (Highest, Pro-rata, or Payment Order).
- Should you make a lump sum withdrawal that takes your balance below $1,000, we'll pay out your full account balance and close your Choice Income account. Your income payments will also stop.

You can change your payment frequency and amount at any time. To make sure it's processed in time for your next scheduled payment, we need to receive your change at least five business days earlier.

3. Fees and other costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the Fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website (moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

The information about negotiating lower fees is required by law. Please note, AustralianSuper's fees and costs are not negotiable.

This section shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your account, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees and advice fees for personal advice may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity or advice chosen by you. Entry fees and exit fees cannot be charged.

Taxes are set out on pages 37 - 38.

You should read all the information about fees and other costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

The actual total fees and costs that you will be charged will depend on your total account value, the ETFs and LICs you choose, and the transactions you carry out.

Example - Member Direct iShares S&P 500 ETF		Balance of $50,000
Cost of product for Member Direct Shares, ETFs & LICs level of access	$282	For every $50,000 you have in the superannuation product, you will be charged $50 in administration fees and costs up to a maximum of $600 plus you will be charged $232 regardless of your account balance.
PLUS Other fees and costs for the iShares S&P 500 ETF ¹	0.05%	AND , you will have deducted from your investment $25 in other fees and costs.
EQUALS Total fees and costs ^{2, 3}		If your balance was $50,000 at the beginning of the year, then for that year you will be charged fees and costs of $307 for holding the iShares S&P500 ETF.

¹ Based on the issuer’s PDS dated 10 April 2025 which was current on the date this document was prepared. Refer to the issuer’s website and relevant disclosure documents for the latest fee and cost information.

² This example is for illustrative purposes only and assumes your account balance of $50,000 is maintained throughout the year and is only invested in the iShares S&P 500 ETF. In practice a minimum holding applies to your Member Direct Cash account and to amounts invested in either PreMixed or DIY Mix options – refer to australiansuper.com/MemberDirectGuide for details.

³ Additional fees may apply.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Changing your fees

We can change the fees we charge at any time without your consent. You'll be given at least 30 days' notice before any increase in fees deducted directly from your account takes effect.

Administration fees and costs

Administration fees are paid into the Fund's administration reserve and the Fund pays its administration costs from that reserve.

Where administration costs paid from the reserve for the year ended 30 June 2025 exceed administration fees paid into the reserve for the year ended 30 June 2025, these additional administration costs paid from reserves are disclosed under Administration fees and costs. They are calculated as a ratio to the average value of net assets attributable to members over the year. They are variable and are likely to change from year to year.

When you first join:

- the Flat administration fee for your first month is charged based on the number of Fridays in the month following the date the full balance is received into your account, and
- the Asset-based administration fee for your first month is charged based on your closing account

balance at the end of the month and is pro-rated based on the number of days in the month from the date the full balance is received into your account.

When you leave:

- the Flat administration fee for your final month is charged based on the number of Fridays in that month that you were a member, and
- the Asset-based administration fee for your final month is charged based on your closing account balance on the day you leave and is pro-rated according to the number of days in the month that you were a member.

The Asset-based administration fee is capped at $600 for any one financial year ending 30 June. The annual cap is applied monthly, pro-rated based on the number of days in the month.

The Trustee may be paid a limited 'Trustee Risk Reserve Fee' to allow it to manage financial risks of the Trustee or its directors that are incurred in connection with their AustralianSuper roles. If applicable, this fee is included in the administration fees and costs disclosed. You can find more information about this fee in australiansuper.com/TrustDeed

Investment fees and costs (excluding Performance fees)

Investment fees and costs (excluding Performance fees) include expenses incurred directly by AustralianSuper as well as expenses incurred indirectly via other investment vehicles in which we invest. They include:

- internal investment management costs
- investment management fees paid to third party investment managers
- custody costs
- derivative costs
- audit and other administrative costs of holding and managing investments.

They are estimated based on the actual Investment fees and costs (excluding Performance fees) incurred for the year ended 30 June 2025 and are expressed as a ratio to the average value of all the assets in the investment option over the year. They are variable and are likely to change from year to year.

Performance fees

Performance fees are an additional cost to you over and above the Investment fees and costs (excluding Performance fees) detailed above and any Administration fees and costs.

AustralianSuper does not directly charge a Performance fee, however Performance fees are paid to certain third-party investment managers for generating outperformance above a set benchmark. Generally, they are calculated as a percentage of any outperformance above a set benchmark and any time a Performance fee is paid the manager must exceed the previous highest value plus an appropriate performance hurdle before a new Performance fee is paid.

Performance fees are calculated and included in the crediting rate for the relevant investment option at a frequency consistent with the valuation cycle of the relevant asset or portfolio, but not more frequently than monthly, and are paid at least annually. The Performance fee for a particular asset or portfolio can rise and fall in line with performance. Investment options may have a number of third-party investment managers that charge a Performance fee, and these will be determined on each individual manager's performance. This means that a Performance fee may be paid regardless of the overall performance of the investment option.

The Performance fees shown in the table on page 45 are estimated based on the average of the actual Performance fees incurred for the last five financial years ending 30 June 2025 (or a shorter period if the Performance fee was not charged for the last five financial years) and are expressed as a ratio to the average value of all the assets in the investment option over the period. They are variable and are likely to change from year to year.

We take into account any clawbacks of Performance fees paid to any third-party investment manager in a particular period due to underperformance against the set benchmark which reduces the Performance fees disclosed.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance and the existence of a disclosed Performance fee for an investment option should not be taken as an indication of future performance for that investment option.

Transaction costs

Transaction costs are an additional cost to all members that invest in a particular investment option.

They comprise a broad category of costs we incur that relate to buying or selling underlying investments. They include:

- brokerage costs
- settlement and clearing costs
- stamp duty on investment transactions
- due diligence costs on investment transactions
- buy-sell spreads on underlying investment vehicles.

We do not charge a Buy-sell spread on our investment options so Transaction costs for an investment option will also include the costs incurred as a result of individual member's contributions and withdrawals including any switches between investment options.

Transaction costs are estimated based on the actual costs incurred for the year ended 30 June 2025 and are expressed as a ratio to the average value of all the assets in the investment option over the year. They are variable and are likely to change from year to year.

Member Direct investment option fees and costs

The fees and costs that apply to Member Direct vary depending on which level of access you select.

Level of access	Assets you can invest in	Portfolio administration fee	Brokerage fee
Cash Account	Cash	$30 p.a.	Nil
Term Deposits	Cash and Term Deposits	$120 p.a.	Nil
Shares, ETFs & LICs	Cash and Term Deposits and S&P/ASX 300 shares, ETFs and LICs	$180 p.a.	If you buy and sell shares, ETFs or LICs, Brokerage fees will apply. Refer to Brokerage fees below.

Portfolio administration fees

Your Portfolio administration fee is deducted directly from your Member Direct Cash account in arrears on the first business day of the following month based on the number of days in the month.

It is determined by the level of access you select and not by the type of assets you hold. If you no longer hold the core asset type, you can reduce this fee by selecting a different level of access via the Member Direct online platform.

Brokerage fees

When buying and selling shares, ETFs or LICs, Brokerage fees will apply to each transaction as follows:

Transaction amount	Brokerage fee (incl GST less RITC)
$0 to $13,000	$13.00
$13,001+	0.10%

Any Brokerage fee is deducted directly from your Member Direct Cash account when the corresponding transaction is settled.

The Fund claims a Reduced Input Tax Credit (RITC) of 75% on the Goods and Services Tax (GST) component and passes the benefit on to you in the form of a lower Brokerage fee deducted from your account (reflected in the amounts in the table above).

Brokerage fees are charged in three separate components:

- Brokerage (fee excluding GST)
- GST
- RITC

Each component is rounded to the nearest two decimal places.

For any orders which are not fully executed on the same trading day, normal Brokerage fees will apply on each transaction amount executed per trading day.

Term Deposit costs

If Term Deposits are redeemed prior to their maturity date, the effective rate of interest will be reduced depending on the time invested as follows:

Time invested (% of total term)	Interest rate reduction
0 to 50	50%
>50	20%

Other fees and costs for ETFs and LICs

If you hold ETFs or LICs, underlying fees and costs will be charged by the product issuer. Refer to the issuer's website and relevant disclosure documents for the latest fee and cost information.

Seek professional advice

Investments made through the Member Direct investment option form part of a self-directed investment strategy. Member Direct isn't for everyone. You should read the Member Direct investment option guide and the Member Direct online platform terms and conditions before making a decision. You'll find more information at australiansuper.com/MemberDirect

We strongly encourage you to seek advice from a financial adviser before choosing the Member Direct investment option and formulating your investment strategy.

For more information on your advice options with AustralianSuper call 1300 300 273 (8am to 8pm AEST/AEDT weekdays) or visit australiansuper.com/advice

Personal financial product advice is provided under the Australian Financial Services Licence held by a third party and not by AustralianSuper Pty Ltd. Fees may apply.

Advice fees for personal advice

If you receive personal financial advice, you may be charged an advice fee which would be outlined before any work is completed and is subject to your agreement. With your written approval, advice fees may be deducted from your AustralianSuper account as long as the advice relates solely to your AustralianSuper account.

Where the advice being provided is in relation to both your AustralianSuper account and another external superannuation account, or in relation to both your AustralianSuper account and another family member's AustralianSuper account, only the component of the advice fees relating to the advice specifically about your AustralianSuper account can be deducted from your AustralianSuper account.

For most simple super advice about your AustralianSuper account, there's no additional cost, as it's included in your membership and covered by the administration fees you pay.

For simple super advice about transition to retirement and/or starting a pension account, a fee of $295 is payable from your AustralianSuper account.

If you receive personal financial advice that is not provided through the simple super advice service, the fee you pay will depend on the nature and complexity of the advice. This fee will be agreed in writing with your adviser. The Statement of Advice (or Record of Advice) provided by your Financial Adviser will set out the fees you'll pay.

Advice fees may be:

- one-off advice fees for a one-off service
- fixed-term advice fees for a fixed period of service of 12 months or less
- ongoing advice fees for a period of service of more than 12 months, however you must provide your written consent on each anniversary to renew the service.

Generally, advice fee deductions can only be requested once in a 12-month period and will be paid as a single lump sum payment. Where the nominated account for the advice fee deduction is the Member Direct Cash account, any fixed-term or ongoing advice fees may also be deducted on either a monthly or quarterly basis and will automatically cease at the end of the service period which must be 12 months or less.

Advice fees are deducted directly from your account when your fee consent is processed, or from your Member Direct Cash account in arrears on the first business day following the end of the month or quarter.

Refer to australiansuper.com/advice for details on your advice options.

Personal financial product advice is provided under the Australian Financial Services Licence held by a third party and not by AustralianSuper Pty Ltd.

How to join

Join online at australiansuper.com/join or fill out the Open a Choice Income account form at the back of this PDS.

Before you set up your account

If you're transferring your money from more than one super fund to start your Choice Income account, it may take time for all your money to reach us. Because we will only invest all of your money together at the one time, there will be no investment returns until we receive all your super rollovers.

To ensure your money stays invested at all times, it is a good idea to combine all your money into one super account first.

If you already have an AustralianSuper super account, the money transferred from your other funds will be invested in the investment option(s) you've previously selected for your super account, and any returns will be applied to your super account. To combine, complete the Combine your super into AustralianSuper form at australiansuper.com/forms. If you don't have an AustralianSuper super account, you can open a super account online at australiansuper.com/join or call us on 1300 300 273.

If you would like to cancel your membership during this period, please write to us at:

AustralianSuper
Locked Bag 6
Carlton South, VIC 3053

Your minimum payment amount is determined by the actual amount rolled into your account, and is recalculated every year based on your balance on 1 July. For details see page 39 of the PDS. You'll be paid this minimum amount as the default option if no relevant boxes are selected. The minimum payment amount will also be pro-rata (proportionate) by default in the first financial year. This means that in your first financial year, you'll receive a proportion of the minimum annual amount spread over the rest of that first financial year.

² If you choose an amount that is smaller than the minimum amount per financial year, we'll contact you.

³ If no relevant box is selected for an annual increase in payment amount, the default option is 0%.

Making, changing or cancelling a binding death benefit nomination

Follow these instructions to make, change or cancel a binding death benefit nomination.

What's a binding nomination?

A binding nomination instructs AustralianSuper how to pay your death benefit if you die.

As long as it's still valid when it's assessed upon notification of your death, your nomination is legally binding and we must follow it¹. This is why it's important to consider updating your binding nomination if your circumstances change (marriage, divorce, birth of a child, or death of a nominee), so that your benefit will be paid in line with your current wishes.

Who can I nominate?

For a binding nomination to be valid, the people you list at step 5 of this form must be your dependants (at the date of your death) and/or legal personal representative:

- your spouse (including de facto and same sex)
- your children (including step, adopted or ex-nuptial of any age)
- financially dependent² on you
- an interdependant (see More about interdependants), or
- your legal personal representative, which means the executor or administrator of your estate.

For every beneficiary you nominate, you can only specify one type of relationship (eg. spouse, child, interdependant or financial dependant).

How long does it last?

AustralianSuper offers two types of binding nominations:

Option 1: Lapsing binding nomination

This nomination will expire 3 years from the date you sign the form. The expiry date will be shown on your annual statement and in your account online, and you'll be sent reminders prior to the expiry date.

Option 2: Non-lapsing binding nomination

This nomination does not have an expiration date and will only be changed or cancelled if you complete a new nomination form.

You can make or change your binding nomination anytime. You'll need to complete a valid Binding death benefit nomination form available at australiansuper.com/beneficiaries

In order for AustralianSuper to accept your binding nomination, you must select either lapsing or non-lapsing in step 4 of this form.

If you fail to select one of the options, the form is invalid and you will need to submit a completely new Binding death benefit nomination form.

How do I cancel my binding nomination?

You can cancel your binding nomination at any time. If you wish to cancel your current nomination without making a new nomination please complete steps 1, 2 and 6 of this form and return it to us. Any death benefits will then be paid at the discretion of the Trustee of AustralianSuper to your dependants or legal personal representative.

How do I confirm or renew a lapsing binding nomination after the three year term has expired?

You will need to make a new nomination by completing and submitting a new valid Binding death benefit nomination form. If you make a new lapsing binding nomination, please note that the 3 year term will start again from the date you sign the form. If you make a new non-lapsing binding nomination, this does not have an expiration date.

How do I change my binding nomination?

You can change your binding nomination at any time. To change your current lapsing or non-lapsing binding nomination you'll need to complete and submit a new valid Binding death benefit nomination form.

Your existing nomination will be cancelled and replaced by your new nomination.

Does it cost anything?

No. There are no fees for you to make, change or cancel a binding nomination.

What if my nomination is invalid?

If your nomination is invalid when it is assessed upon notification of your death, the Trustee of AustralianSuper will consider your wishes but will use its discretion when paying out your death benefit.

Examples of an invalid binding nomination include:

- your nomination being made more than three years ago (if you submitted a lapsing binding nomination), or
- the individuals nominated no longer qualify as your dependants at the date of your death.

¹ There may be limited circumstances where AustralianSuper cannot comply with a binding death benefit nomination. This can occur where either you or the Trustee of AustralianSuper are subject to a court order restraining or prohibiting payment in accordance with the binding nomination.

² As defined by Superannuation law.

Can I have a binding death nomination and a reversionary beneficiary for the same retirement income account at the same time?

No. If you currently have a reversionary beneficiary nomination and would like to make a binding death benefit nomination, AustralianSuper requires that you cancel your reversionary beneficiary nomination by completing all the steps on this form, except step 2.

More about interdependants

An interdependent relationship generally exists if:

- two people have a close personal relationship which involves a demonstrated and ongoing commitment to a shared life and each other's emotional support and wellbeing, and
- they live together, or are temporarily living apart, and

- one or each of them provides the other with financial support, and
- one or each of them provides the other with domestic support and personal care of a level normally provided in a close personal relationship, rather than by a mere friend or flatmate.

OR

- if they don't live together or provide each other with financial support, domestic support and personal care, it's because one or both of them suffer from a disability.

Two people don't have an interdependent relationship if one of them provides domestic support and personal care to the other and is paid for this or works on behalf of another person or organisation such as a government agency, a body corporate or a benevolent or charitable organisation.

Whether your nominated beneficiaries qualify as your interdependants will be assessed when a claim is made.

AustralianSuper will pay your death benefit in accordance with your valid binding nomination if it:

- is made to us in writing on the form over the page
- nominates one or more of your dependants (at the date of your death) or legal personal representative
- shows the percentage allocated to your nominated beneficiaries adding up to 100%
- is signed and dated by two people who have witnessed you sign and date the form, are aged 18 years or over and are not nominated as beneficiaries on the form
- is received by us before your death, and
- has not expired before your death (if you make a lapsing binding nomination).

To make or change an existing nomination, please complete the form below.

To cancel an existing binding nomination, complete steps 1, 2 and 6 of this form including having your signature witnessed.

To make, renew or change an existing binding nomination or to replace an existing reversionary nomination with a binding nomination, complete steps 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6 of this form.

If all relevant steps on the form are not completed, including having your signature witnessed, your binding nomination will be invalid, and you will need to complete a new form.

Payer information

The following information will help you comply with your pay as you go (PAYG) withholding obligations.

— Is your employee entitled to work in Australia?

It is a criminal offence to knowingly or recklessly allow someone to work, or to refer someone for work, where that person is from overseas and is either in Australia illegally or is working in breach of their visa conditions.

People or companies convicted of these offences may face fines and/or imprisonment. To avoid penalties, ensure your prospective employee has a valid visa to work in Australia before you employ them. For more information and to check a visa holder's status online, visit the Department of Home Affairs website at homeaffairs.gov.au

Is your payee working under a working holiday visa (subclass 417) or a work and holiday visa (subclass 462)?

Employers of workers under these two types of visa need to register with the ATO, see ato.gov.au/whmreg

For the tax table "working holiday maker" visit our website at ato.gov.au/taxtables

Payer obligations

If you withhold amounts from payments, or are likely to withhold amounts, the payee may give you this form with section A completed. A TFN declaration applies to payments made after the declaration is provided to you. The information provided on this form is used to determine the amount of tax to be withheld from payments based on the PAYG withholding tax tables we publish. If the payee gives you another declaration, it overrides any previous declarations.

Has your payee advised you that they have applied for a TFN, or enquired about their existing TFN?

Where the payee indicates at question 1 on this form that they have applied for an individual TFN, or enquired about their existing TFN, they have 28 days to give you their TFN. You must withhold tax for 28 days at the standard rate according to the PAYG withholding tax tables. After 28 days, if the payee has not given you their TFN, you must then withhold the top rate of tax from future payments, unless we tell you not to.

If your payee has not given you a completed form you must:

- notify us within 14 days of the start of the withholding obligation by completing as much of the payee section of the form as you can. Print 'PAYER' in the payee declaration and lodge the form – see 'Lodging the form'.
- withhold the top rate of tax from any payment to that payee.

- For a full list of tax tables, visit our website at ato.gov.au/taxtables

Lodging the form

You need to lodge TFN declarations with us within 14 days after the form is either signed by the payee or completed by you (if not provided by the payee). You need to retain a copy of the form for your records. For information about storage and disposal, see below.

You may lodge the information:

- online – lodge your TFN declaration reports using software that complies with our specifications. There is no need to complete section B of each form as the payer information is supplied by your software.
- by paper – complete section B and send the original to us within 14 days.

- For more information about lodging your TFN declaration report online, visit our website at ato.gov.au/lodgetfndeclaration

Provision of payee's TFN to the payee's super fund

If you make a super contribution for your payee, you need to give your payee's TFN to their super fund on the day of contribution, or if the payee has not yet quoted their TFN, within 14 days of receiving this form from your payee.

Storing and disposing of TFN declarations

The TFN Rule issued under the Privacy Act 1988 requires a TFN recipient to use secure methods when storing and disposing of TFN information. You may store a paper copy of the signed form or electronic files of scanned forms. Scanned forms must be clear and not altered in any way.

If a payee:

- submits a new TFN declaration (NAT 3092), you must retain a copy of the earlier form for the current and following financial year.
- has not received payments from you for 12 months, you must retain a copy of the last completed form for the current and following financial year.

— Penalties

You may incur a penalty if you do not:

- lodge TFN declarations with us
- keep a copy of completed TFN declarations for your records
- provide the payee's TFN to their super fund where the payee quoted their TFN to you.
