2 How super works

Super is an important way for you to save for retirement.

Super is an investment for your future and the sooner money starts going into your account, the better off you'll be when you retire. That's because, over the long term, your super grows from investment returns and any money that's added to your account.

There are many ways money can be added (contributed) to your account.

Superannuation Guarantee contributions

Employers pay a compulsory contribution to your super known as the Superannuation Guarantee (SG). Currently, this is an amount equal to 11.5% of your annual salary (subject to a salary cap of $65,070 each quarter).

There are also other types of contributions that could help you grow your super.

Personal contributions

- Before-tax¹ – includes salary sacrifice contributions made by you, any personal contributions for which you claim a tax deduction and voluntary contributions made by your employer for which they claim a tax deduction.
- After-tax¹ – includes any additional contributions you make from your take-home pay, for which you don't advise us you wish to claim a tax deduction.

Government co-contributions

If you're a low to middle income earner, you may be entitled to a government co-contribution if you add to your super from your after-tax pay. For more information see the Add to your super with government co-contributions fact sheet at australiansuper.com/FactSheets

Useful information to know

Tax benefits are provided by the government to encourage you to save more for retirement and grow your super over time.

You generally can't access your super savings until you reach your preservation age. Your preservation age varies depending on the year you were born. To learn more about accessing your super, rollovers and preservation age, visit

australiansuper.com/AccessYourSuper

It's your super, it's your choice

Normally you can tell your employer where you want your super to be paid. But in some cases, it depends on your employment contract. If you don't make a choice and do not have an existing super account which is 'stapled' to you, they will pay your contributions to a MySuper compliant super fund.

Protecting your super

If you have an account balance below $6,000, legislation requires us to transfer your account to the Australian Tax Office (ATO) after 16 months of inactivity. Where possible, the ATO will transfer your account to your active super fund. To find out how to keep your AustralianSuper account active, visit australiansuper.com/pys

Combine your super

If you've had more than one job in the past, you may have more than one super account and several insurance policies. If you want to transfer insurance cover you have with another super fund, you'll need to transfer your cover before you combine your super. Learn more about combining your super and transferring insurance cover at australiansuper.com/combine

¹ Depending on your income and personal circumstances, you may be better off contributing before or after tax, or using a combination of both. The government places limits on the amount that can be contributed to super. To learn more, visit australiansuper.com/InfoTax

4 Risks of super

All investments, including super, have some risk.

How you invest your super will depend on your age, how long you'll invest your super, other investments you may have, and your tolerance for volatility.

Volatility is when the returns on your investment go up or down over time. The level of volatility your super investment could have will depend on the types of assets that your super is invested in. Examples of assets include investments such as shares, property, fixed interest, or cash.

Different types of assets have different levels of potential return and volatility. Generally, higher long-term returns are accompanied by a greater potential for volatility in the short term.

You can choose from a range of investment options, each with a different mix of assets. So, the likely investment return and the level of potential volatility of returns involved are different for each option.

What you need to think about

When considering your super, it's important to understand that:

- investment returns may go up and down over time and the value of investments will vary, so the value of your super may also go up and down
- investing too conservatively can be risky because over the long term your investment may not earn a return above the inflation rate
- returns aren't guaranteed, and you may lose some of your money
- past returns aren't a reliable indicator of future returns
- the laws affecting your super may change, and
- the amount of your future super savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough for your retirement.

More information

You should read the important information about the risks of investing in super before making a decision. Download the Investment guide, from australiansuper.com/InvestmentGuide

Invests in a wide range of assets with a focus on growth assets. Designed to have medium to long-term growth with possible short-term fluctuations.

- To beat the median balanced fund³ over the medium to longer term.

Risk levels

6 Fees and costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the Fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website (moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This section shows the fees and other costs you may be charged for the AustralianSuper MySuper Balanced investment option. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your account, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole. You can use this information to compare fees and costs between different superannuation products. See australiansuper.com/FeesandCostsGuide for the fees and costs for our other investment options.

¹ If your account balance is less than $6,000 at the end of the financial year, certain fees and costs charged to you in relation to administration and investment are capped at 3% of your account balance. Any amount charged in excess of that cap will be refunded directly to your account.

² These percentages are calculated based on previous financial year(s) and are rounded to the nearest two decimal places. For details of how they are calculated see australiansuper.com/FeesandCostsGuide The actual amount you'll be charged for this financial year will depend on the actual fees and costs incurred.

³ Investment fees and costs include an amount of 0.09% p.a. for Performance fees.

You will receive a tax benefit of 15% on any administration fees and any insurance fees deducted directly from your account. The tax benefit will be paid directly into your account each month. See Section 7 of this PDS for further information on how super is taxed.

7 How super is taxed

Tax on contributions

The tax paid on super contributions depends on the amount and type of contribution. Tax is deducted after the contribution is received. There are limits on how much you can contribute, and if you exceed these limits you may pay extra tax.

Type	Tax on contributions in 2024/2025
Before-tax contribution	If the total of your taxable income and your before-tax contributions is $250,000 or less, 15% will be applied to contributions up to the before-tax contributions cap of $30,000 (or up to your unused before-tax contributions cap for the previous 5 years). If the total of your taxable income and your before-tax contributions is more than $250,000 per year, your before-tax contributions will be taxed at 30%, to that extent. Contributions that exceed the cap will be taxed at your personal rate (less a 15% tax offset), plus an interest charge. You can choose to withdraw up to 85% of excess contributions, which won't then count towards your after-tax limit.
After-tax contribution	No tax on amounts up to the after-tax contributions cap of $120,000 a year (or up to $360,000 over 3 years if certain conditions are met). You can choose to withdraw any excess contributions plus 85% of its earnings. These earnings will be taxed at your personal rate (less a 15% tax offset). If you don't withdraw the excess contributions, they will be taxed at 47%¹ in the Fund. There may be restrictions on the after-tax contributions you can make if you already have a very large balance in your super account/s.

Tax on investment earnings: Investment earnings are taxed at up to 15%. This tax is deducted from the crediting rate of the relevant investment option, before investment returns are credited to your account.

Tax on withdrawals: Your super is made up of two components: taxable and tax-free. There's no tax payable on the tax-free component. Lump sum withdrawals are generally tax-free if you're aged 60 or over. Tax on withdrawals is deducted before you receive your payment (if applicable).

Tax on taxable component² if you're under 60

2024/2025 - If you're aged under 60, your lump sum withdrawal will be taxed at 22%¹.

You should provide your Tax File Number (TFN). If we don't have your TFN, your before-tax contributions and withdrawals are taxed at a higher rate and we can't accept after-tax contributions from you.

Before making a decision, you should read the important information about:

- how super is taxed. Go to Tax and super at australiansuper.com/TaxGuide
- providing your TFN. Go to australiansuper.com/TFNGuide

The material relating to how super is taxed and providing your TFN may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

² If your taxable component includes an untaxed element, additional tax may be applied to that element.

8 Insurance in your super

Most members receive basic age-based cover (also referred to as default cover) when they join (age limits and conditions apply). This cover provides a basic level of protection if you die, or become ill or injured.

- Death cover – can provide a lump sum to your beneficiaries if you die.
- Total & Permanent Disablement (TPD) cover – can provide a lump sum payment if you become totally and permanently disabled and can no longer work.

If you have Death or TPD cover you're also covered for terminal illness. A terminal illness payment can help ease some of the financial stress if you're suffering from a terminal medical condition.

AustralianSuper insurance is provided by TAL Life Limited (the Insurer)
ABN 70 050 109 450 AFSL 237848.

Basic Death and TPD cover

Basic cover is age-based. Your cover amount and cost change as you get older. Once you're eligible for cover to start, you'll pay for the cost of your cover. See page 14 for basic cover amounts and costs.

When your basic cover starts

You're eligible to receive basic cover automatically if you're 25 or older; and your super balance reaches $6,000; and you've received an employer super contribution after you meet both age and balance requirements (other conditions apply).

Once you're eligible, your basic cover will start as long as you have enough money in your super account to cover the cost of the first month of insurance, on the latest of these dates:

- the date you turn 25, or
- the date your balance first reaches $6,000, or
- the date you started working for your employer, or
- the start date of the payment period that applies to your first employer super contribution (after you meet both age and balance requirements), or
- 120 days before we receive your first employer super contribution (after you meet both age and balance requirements).

Your first payment may be higher than your ongoing monthly payments. That's because it includes insurance costs from the date your cover started to the date of your first payment deduction from your super account (which may be for a period that's longer than a month).

There are circumstances when your basic cover may start for a short period even though you've cancelled it. The cost for this cover will be deducted from your super account after your cover has been cancelled because costs are deducted one month in arrears.

Basic cover won't start automatically if you've cancelled or opted out of basic cover, or you've fixed your total cover amount.

Insurance costs are deducted monthly from your super account and they reduce your retirement savings. If you don't want your basic cover to start automatically when you become eligible, you can opt out by cancelling it – even if it hasn't started yet.

Consider the impact of insurance costs on your retirement savings when you review your insurance needs. See the Change or cancel your cover anytime section on page 13 for more information.

Start your basic cover earlier

You can apply to start your basic cover earlier without providing detailed health information for the Insurer to consider.

You're eligible to apply to start your basic cover earlier once, without providing detailed health information. You'll need to apply before your cover starts, as long as you've never opted out of, reduced, or cancelled cover; or applied to increase your cover, transfer cover from another super fund or insurer, change your Income Protection waiting period and/or benefit payment period, make a Life Events application or make any other changes to your cover (except applying to change your individual work rating).

If you've already applied to make any of these changes (this includes declined or withdrawn applications), or transfer between AustralianSuper divisions, you won't be eligible.

How to apply to start your basic cover earlier

You can apply when you join online at australiansuper.com/join or by using the Join AustralianSuper form in this PDS.

Or you can apply when you become a member by completing the Start your basic cover form you receive with your welcome letter.

You'll need to apply within 120 days of the date of your welcome letter.

Income Protection

Income Protection can provide monthly payments to help you get by if you become ill or injured (at work or outside of work) and can't work.

It isn't automatically provided when you join Super Options, but you can apply for Income Protection anytime (age limits and conditions apply). You'll need to provide detailed health information for the Insurer to consider.

If you have Income Protection and you're eligible, your benefit payments will be based on your pre-disability income and other factors. Benefit payments can't be greater than 85% of your pre-disability income (up to 75% is paid to you and up to 10% to your super) and they may be reduced by income you receive from other sources.

You should read the important information about Income Protection including salary definitions, benefit payment periods, waiting periods and costs before making a decision. Go to the Types of cover section in the Insurance in your super guide at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide. The material relating to Income Protection may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

Limited cover and standard exclusions

There are circumstances when your cover (including basic cover) may be limited cover. Limited cover means you don't have full cover yet and you won't be covered for any pre-existing illness or injuries you had before you got your insurance and it may last for different lengths of time. You'll be covered for an illness that becomes apparent, or an injury that occurs on or after the date that your insurance starts or increases.

Full cover means your cover is not limited cover.

Standard exclusions apply to your cover which mean you will not be covered for death, illness or injury as a result of certain events.

You should read the important information about limited cover and standard exclusions before making a decision. Go to the Limited cover and standard exclusions section in the Insurance in your super guide at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide. The material relating to limited cover and standard exclusions may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

Change or cancel your cover anytime

You can apply for, change or cancel insurance cover anytime by logging into your account or completing the relevant form at australiansuper.com/InsuranceForms

You may need to provide detailed health information for the Insurer to consider. Some changes you can make include:

- applying for new cover (if you don't have it)
- fixing, reducing or applying to increase the amount of cover you have
- applying to change your individual work rating
- applying to transfer cover from another super fund or insurer
- applying to change your Income Protection benefit payment period or waiting period.

Check how much cover you might need (if any) and what it might cost by using our calculator at australiansuper.com/InsuranceCalculator

If you cancel your cover now you might not be able to get cover later. That's because you'll need to reapply and provide detailed health information for the Insurer to consider.

About individual work ratings

A work rating classifies the usual activities of your job into one of three ratings: Blue Collar, White Collar or Professional. Your individual work rating is one of the factors that determines how much you pay for your insurance cover.

When you join Super Options and have insurance cover, you pay what it costs to provide you with cover based on our default individual work rating, Blue Collar.

However you may be eligible for a White Collar or Professional work rating and to pay less for your cover if you apply, and are accepted, for one of these work ratings.

Check by answering a few questions at australiansuper.com/WorkRatingTool

To apply to change your individual work rating, complete the work rating questions when you join online at australiansuper.com/join or in the Join AustralianSuper form in this PDS. Once you're a member log into your account and go to Insurance, then Manage insurance, Change cover and select Change your individual work rating to apply. Or complete the Change your individual work rating form at australiansuper.com/InsuranceForms

Age-based cover amounts and costs

The age-based cover amounts available to you depends on your age. The cost of cover is based on your age and individual work rating. This table shows the Death and TPD age-based cover amounts and the weekly costs of that cover with a Blue Collar individual work rating at various ages.

See the full cover amounts and costs in the Insurance in your super guide at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide

What's included in the cost of cover?

Insurance costs include costs paid to the Insurer (inclusive of stamp duty). They also include a cost incurred by AustralianSuper for administering insurance arrangements, which amounts to 4.6% of the total weekly insurance cost. This applies to basic cover and any additional cover you apply for. For more information on the weekly cost of cover, see the Insurance in your super guide at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide

Your eligibility to claim for benefits will be determined in line with the insurance policy terms and conditions.

You should read the important information about insurance before making a decision. Go to the Insurance in your super guide at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide

It details terms and conditions about insurance, including costs, your eligibility for cover, how much you can apply for, what you're covered for, when it starts and stops, active employment, limited cover and exclusions, and your insurance options.

The material relating to insurance may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

You can change your mind about us

If you've chosen AustralianSuper (instead of your employer signing you up) and you change your mind, a 14 day 'cooling off' period applies. This period starts from the earlier of:

- the date we confirm your AustralianSuper account has been established, or
- five business days after the date your account with AustralianSuper was established.

If you'd like to cancel your membership during this period, please write to us at GPO Box 1901, Melbourne VIC 3001 or australiansuper.com/email

If you cancel your membership during this period, we'll transfer your account to an approved fund of your choice. Any contributions tax we've paid on your behalf will be deducted beforehand. We'll also deduct any fees due.

Your account will attract investment returns (positive or negative), in line with how we apply crediting rates. See australiansuper.com/InvestmentGuide for more details.

Cancelling your membership during this period means you won't be entitled to any insurance benefits.

When you use this form to nominate beneficiaries, you're telling us which of your dependants you'd like us to pay your super (and any insurance benefit) to if you die. We're not bound by your nomination, but we use this information as a guide to work out who to pay your benefit to.

4 Change your insurance (optional)

You're eligible to receive basic (age-based) Death and Total & Permanent Disablement (TPD) cover automatically if you're 25 or older; and your super balance reaches $6,000; and you've received an employer super contribution after you meet both age and balance requirements (other conditions apply). This is detailed in section 8 of the Product Disclosure Statement.

Complete this section to make changes to your cover. You can cancel some or all of your cover, apply to start your basic cover earlier, and apply to change your individual work rating.

Basic cover won't start automatically if you've cancelled or opted out of basic cover, or you've fixed your total cover amount.

If you're receiving employer super contributions, you can apply to start your basic cover earlier, even if you haven't met both age and balance requirements. We'll confirm when your basic cover will start once we've processed your application. The cost of your cover will be deducted monthly from your super account from the date your cover starts.

If you don't want cover to start automatically when you turn 25 or when your balance reaches $6,000, you can opt out by cancelling it (go to section 4.2).

You're eligible to apply to start your basic cover earlier once, without providing detailed health information for the Insurer to consider (section 4.3).

You'll need to apply before your cover starts, as long as you've never opted out of, reduced, or cancelled cover; or applied to increase your cover, transfer cover from another super fund or insurer, change your Income Protection waiting period and/or benefit payment period, make a Life Events application or make any other changes to your cover (except applying to change your individual work rating).

If you've already applied to make any of these changes (this includes declined or withdrawn applications), or transfer between AustralianSuper divisions, you won't be eligible.

If you don't want all cover types, you can cancel the cover type(s) you don't want (go to section 4.2).

Want more cover?

You can apply for more cover anytime (including Income Protection). You'll need to provide detailed health information for the Insurer to consider. To apply, log into your account and go to Insurance or download and complete the Change your insurance form at australiansuper.com/InsuranceForms

Need more time to think about insurance?

If you don't want to change your basic insurance now, skip to section 5. You'll still be able to apply to start your basic cover earlier without providing detailed health information for the Insurer to consider, at a later date. We'll write to you with details.

Before you change your cover

You should read the Insurance in your super guide. It contains important information about insurance, including costs, your eligibility for cover, how much you can apply for, when cover starts and stops, active employment, limited cover and exclusions. Download a copy of the guide at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide

Your eligibility to claim for benefits will be determined in line with the insurance policy terms and conditions.

Insurance cover will only be provided in line with the insurance policy terms and conditions as agreed between AustralianSuper and the Insurer. Those terms and conditions may change from time to time and AustralianSuper will notify you of those changes where required by law.

4.1 Duty to take reasonable care

The duty to take reasonable care

When you apply for insurance, you are treated as if you are applying for cover under an individual consumer insurance contract. A person who applies for cover under a consumer insurance contract has a legal duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the Insurer before the contract of insurance is entered into.

A misrepresentation is a false answer, an answer that is only partially true, or an answer which does not fairly reflect the truth. This duty also applies when extending or making changes to existing insurance, and reinstating insurance.

If you do not meet your duty

If you do not meet your legal duty, this can have serious impacts on your insurance. Under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth) there are a number of different remedies that may be available to the Insurer. They are intended to put the Insurer in the position it would have been in if the duty had been met. For example, the Insurer may:

- avoid the cover (treat it as if it never existed);
- vary the amount of the cover; or
- vary the terms of the cover.

Whether the Insurer can exercise one of these remedies depends on a number of factors, including:

- whether reasonable care was taken not to make a misrepresentation. This depends on all of the relevant circumstances;
- what the Insurer would have done if the duty had been met – for example, whether it would have offered cover, and if so, on what terms;
- whether the misrepresentation was fraudulent; and
- in some cases, how long it has been since the cover started.

Before any of these remedies are exercised, the Insurer will explain the reasons for its decision, how to respond and provide further information, and what you can do if you disagree.

Guidance for answering the questions in this form

You are responsible for the information provided to the Insurer. When answering questions, please:

- Think carefully about each question before you answer. If you are unsure of the meaning of any question, please ask us before you respond.
- Answer every question.
- Answer truthfully, accurately and completely. If you are unsure about whether you should include information, please include it.
- Review your application carefully before it is submitted. If someone else helped prepare your application (for example, your adviser), please check every answer (and if necessary, make any corrections) before the application is submitted.

Please note that there may be circumstances where the Insurer later investigates whether the information given to it was true. For example, it may do this when a claim is made.

Changes before your cover starts

Before your cover starts, the Insurer may ask you whether the information that has been given as part of your application for insurance remains accurate or whether there has been a change to any of your circumstances. As any changes might require further assessment or investigation, it could save time if you let us or the Insurer know about any changes when they happen.

If you need help

It's important that you understand your obligations and the questions that are being asked. Please contact us for help if you have difficulty understanding the process of obtaining insurance or answering any questions.

Please also let us know if you're having difficulty due to a disability, understanding English or for any other reason – we're here to help and can provide additional support.

4.2 Cancel your cover

Complete this section to cancel one or more cover types. You won't be insured for any cover you cancel from the date your cancellation is received by AustralianSuper or the Insurer (as applicable). This means for the type of cover you cancel:

- Your basic cover won't start automatically even if you meet both age and balance requirements in the future.
- You (or your beneficiaries) won't be able to make an insurance claim if you suffer an illness or injury or you die after the cancellation.
- The cost of cover won't be or will stop being deducted from your super account (costs are deducted one month in arrears).
- You might not be able to get cover later. That's because you'll need to apply for that cover in the future and provide detailed health information for the Insurer to consider.

If you're replacing this cover with another insurance policy, you should wait until the other super fund or insurer confirms your cover has started before you cancel. You should consider getting financial advice to help work out if cancellation is right for you.

As an AustralianSuper member, you also have access to a choice of help and advice options from simple, personal advice over the phone, to more comprehensive, broader advice with a financial adviser¹. Go to australiansuper.com/advice for more information.

Print (X) next to each type of cover you wish to cancel.

Death

TPD

¹ Personal financial product advice is provided under the Australian Financial Services Licence held by a third party and not by AustralianSuper Pty Ltd. Some personal advice may attract a fee, which would be outlined before any work is completed and is subject to your agreement. With your approval, the fee for advice relating to your AustralianSuper account may be deducted from your super account subject to eligibility criteria.

4.3 Start your age-based cover now

Complete this section to start your basic cover. If you're receiving employer super contributions, you can apply to start your basic cover, even if you haven't met both age and balance requirements.

We'll confirm when your basic cover will start once we've processed your application. See the Insurance in your super guide for when cover starts.

The cost of your cover will be deducted monthly from your super account from the date your cover starts.

Print (X) to start your basic cover now.

☐ You'll receive basic (age-based) Death and TPD cover.

If you don't want all of your basic cover to start, you can cancel part of your cover (section 4.2).

4.4 Start your basic cover later

This is our default option. There's no action required if you'd like your basic cover to start later – once you're 25 or older; and your super balance has reached $6,000; and you've received an employer super contribution after you meet both age and balance requirements (other conditions apply).

4.5 Change your individual work rating

A work rating classifies the usual activities of your job into one of three ratings: Blue Collar, White Collar or Professional. Your individual work rating is one of the factors that determines how much you pay for your insurance cover.

When you join AustralianSuper and have insurance cover, you pay what it costs to provide you with cover based on our default work rating, Blue Collar. Insurance cover with a Blue Collar work rating is the most expensive.

Complete the questions below to apply to change your individual work rating to White Collar or Professional.

1. Are the usual activities of your main job 'white collar'? Yes ☐ No ☐
This means:
 - you spend more than 80% of your job doing clerical or administrative activities in an office-based environment, or
 - you're a professional using your university qualifications in a job that has no unusual work hazards (some examples of unusual work hazards include: working underground, working underwater, working at heights or working in the air).
2. Do you earn $100,000 or more a year (excluding Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions) from your job(s)? Yes ☐ No ☐
This amount is pro rata for part time employment (for example, if you work part time 4 days a week and earn $96,000 a year, your pro rata/full time equivalent is $120,000).
3. Do you have a university qualification? Yes ☐ No ☐
4. Do you have a management role in your company? Yes ☐ No ☐

5 Your investment choice

When you join AustralianSuper by completing this form, you'll automatically be invested in the default Balanced option – our MySuper authorised product.

If you'd like to move your money into a different investment option or options, it won't cost you anything to switch. Just log into your account or the mobile app and click Investments or complete and return the Investment choice form available at australiansuper.com/forms

For more information about our investment options, download our Investment Guide at australiansuper.com/InvestmentGuide

Completing this section of the form will give your financial adviser and their staff access to your account details.
If you have previously granted a financial adviser access to your account details, providing details of a new adviser here will remove access for the previous adviser.

Download an Insurance transfer form at australiansuper.com/InsuranceForms If you wish to claim a tax deduction for personal super contributions, you must lodge a notice of intent to claim a tax deduction with your other fund, before you combine your super.

Important information

1. You can't nominate a balance transfer date. The balance transfer will start within three business days of the date we receive your completed application.
2. If you want to transfer any insurance cover you have with your other super fund to AustralianSuper, you'll need to transfer it before you combine your super. Download an Insurance transfer form at australiansuper.com/InsuranceForms
3. If you're making a whole balance transfer, check any remaining employer contributions have been received and no future payments will be made into your FROM account.
4. This form doesn't:
 - transfer super benefits if you don't know where your super is
 - transfer benefits from multiple funds on one form - you must use a separate form for each fund you wish to transfer

- change the fund to which your employer pays your contributions
- open a new super account, or
- transfer benefits under certain conditions or circumstances, for example if there is a superannuation agreement under the Family Law Act 1975 in place.

Providing your TFN

We're authorised under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 to collect, use and disclose your Tax File Number (TFN). It's optional to provide your TFN, but if we have it, we'll be able to accept all types of contributions from you, you won't pay more tax than you need to, and it'll be easier to find your super. If you transfer your super to another fund, we'll give them your TFN unless you tell us not to in writing. Visit australiansuper.com/TFNGuide for more details.
